It is with pleasure that I write this personal reference for JOHN GLENN.

I had the pleasure of working with John at Northrop Grumman (Reston office) from Jan 2007 to April of 2009. He worked as Manager of IT Business Continuity; from Day One it was clear that he was dedicated to his profession. He integrated quickly, showing flexibility and receptiveness.

Personally I found John to be a very friendly and a person who would go out of his way to help others. When I needed some help to put together documents, he went out of his way to stay and help me with these. Whenever I needed help with writing/editing of documents John was always there.

It should be clear from the above that I did not relish the moment that John announced his intention to move from the Reston office. I have been privileged to work with John and it is with great pleasure that I commit this recommendation on paper, knowing fully that he will be an asset to any employer whom he chooses to approach. I am willing to field any question you may have.

Yours sincerely,
