To Whom It May Concern:

It has been my pleasure to be associated with Mr. John Glenn during the course of several professional endeavors

Mr. Glenn's certification as a Disaster Recovery/Business Continuity expert are integral to the success of any client's projects, and his diligence ensures that no stone will be left unturned. He applies his considerable skills and years of experience to every task during the course of an assignment, much to the benefit of his colleagues and clients.

His detailed approach towards a solution enables the client to enjoy a confident return on their investment. The word "problem" does not exist when Mr. Glenn's instincts take over. He recognizes what needs to be done, and diligently pursues the solution.

Mr. Glenn's abilities as a technical writer ensure that precise, detailed, and grammatically correct publications reach the intended audience without sacrificing the clarity that makes technical writing sometimes difficult to comprehend.

I benefited tremendously from our assignments together, as his ability to create a mentoring environment provided me with a wonderful opportunity to learn from an experienced IT professional.

It is my opinion that Mr. Glenn is a valuable asset to any organization wise enough to engage his services.

Sincerely,
